inner peace and solitude.*

Dedication

Because of his sincere interest in Antioch High School . . .

Because of his outstanding qualities as a man, husband, father, teacher, photographer, friend . . .

Because of his doing the many unheard-of jobs to keep our school ticking . . .

Because he is one of the finest . . .

We dedicate the 1969 REFLECTIONS to Mr. Charles Anderson.

*Within the covers of this book are recorded your meditations and backward glances which you have chosen to call your Reflections. Cling lightly to your memories,
for they are fragile; Clasp
gently your dreams
for they are fleeting;
Hold fast your hopes and ambitions for upon them you will build your lives.

ACADEMICS . . .

"Antioch"—the name evokes memories of faces—of worry, jubilation, and meditation. Among the games, proms, and new-found friends, there are the visions of classes. These serve as the basis of school life. The results of these classes bring glory to those who work diligently; they serve as a stimulus to the mind; and they give knowledge to those who would learn.

SANDRA GRAVES—Class
ANN WILLIAMS—Faculty

Vice-Principals

Mr. Albert Williams will complete his fifth year as assistant principal of A.H.S. this year. He certainly deserves admiration for his diligent work and advice with the students. This year Mr. Williams has taken on a new responsibility as Student Council sponsor and advisor. He has worked hard with the Student Council to make it an organization that will be of more service to both students and school. We are proud to have such a capable leader as Mr. Williams and want to thank him for his fine work to make A.H.S. a school of which to be proud.

Mr. Anthony King is a newcomer to Antioch this year. He graduated from A & I State University, taught English at Hubbard High School in Forsythe, Georgia, and then worked with the Board of Education in Kentucky. This is Mr. King's fifth year to work with school attendance. This year he worked with the parents and students of Antioch, Apollo, and feeder elementary schools. He tries to find the source behind students' dislike for school and strives to improve the school so students will place high values on education, appreciate their opportunity for learning and attaining an enthusiastic desire to come.

ORGANIZATIONS . . .

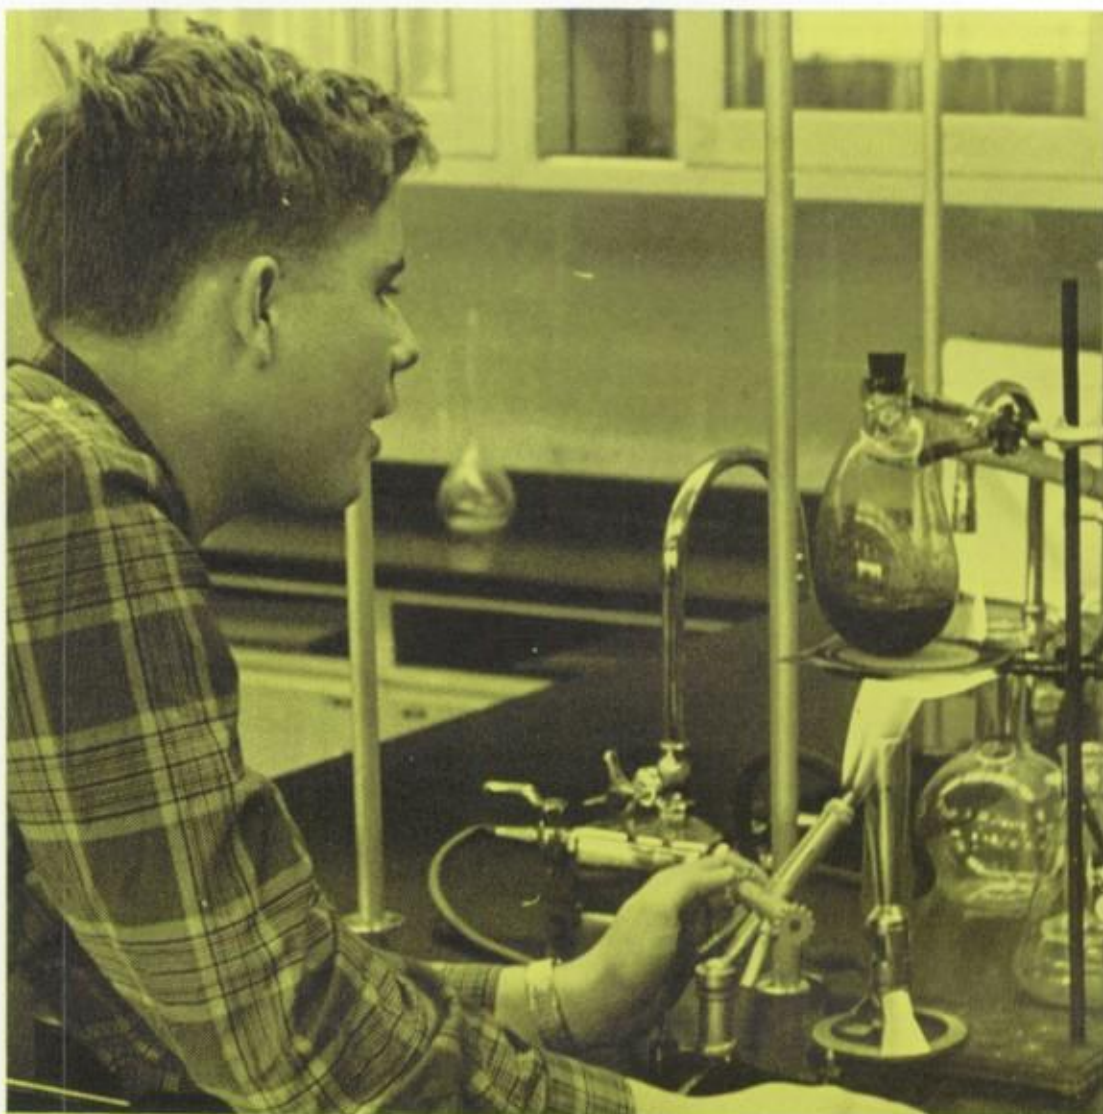

Antioch's organizations serve as a garnish for the schools many other activities. They add excitement and interest to our regular school life.

Our organizations represent many activities, such as sports, music, scholarship, and citizenship. They serve to make the students at Antioch well-rounded individuals.

Several of the clubs are invitational but most of them are open to any student who is sincerely interested.

Having regular club meetings during school gives each student an opportunity to participate. We feel the organizations of Antioch High School have done a fine job of putting spirit and enthusiasm into the entire student body.

The Student Council consists of hard-working, dependable, students who are willing to serve their school and make it a better place for themselves and their fellow students. The Council does this by carrying on certain projects and activities throughout the school year. The Council does a fine job and deserves our thanks and support.

Court & Monitors

The Student Court forms the judicial or law interpreting branch and the monitors compose the executive branch of the student government. This year the monitors have not only enforced the code of conduct, but also have acted as a guide to visitors who come to Antioch. These two organizations may not be appreciated enough by the student body, but they are definitely necessary in order to make our school successful.

Reflections Staff

This year's 1969 REFLECTIONS staff, a member of the Tennessee High School Press Association, has worked hard to produce a yearbook that would reflect the memories of the past year. An entire year of hard work from the staff was necessary to complete this year's REFLECTIONS. We have strived hard to produce a yearbook that would encompass the whole year, and the entire student body.

Bear Bulletin

The job of reporting the activities and news at Antioch High School on a monthly basis, falls on the staff of the Bear Bulletin. The jobs of this year's quad-editors Connie Guthoerl, Regina Cushen, Joan Logan, and Debbie Lofton, are very hard. Pictures, advertising and interesting stories are all necessary to make the paper a thing of school pride and reliability.

To provide time and opportunity for students, and to pursue varied and special interests in the field of mathematics are the main purposes of the Math Club this year.

The club will participate in many activities throughout the year. Two of which they will be in are the State & Regional math contest held at Antioch and Peabody College.

Girls Athletic Club

The purpose of the Girls' Athletic Club is to promote good sportsmanship in all sports, especially basketball. Not only is sportsmanship emphasized while playing, but also as a spectator. During basketball season they discuss the particular games for that week. The mistakes made in the previous games are discussed and what should have been done so that others might profit by the mistakes. Varsity basketball players and any girl who is interested in sports is invited to join the club.

A Club

The A-Club is composed of fine young men who have lettered in a varsity sport at Antioch. Their duty is to always set an example of what a good athlete is supposed to be. These boys are leaders of the school, and they should always represent it well.

1968-69 Marching Bears

The Antioch High Marching Band is one of the hardest working organizations on our campus. They strive constantly for perfection in order that they might represent the school in the best way they can whenever they play outside of the school. They attended numerous festivals and concerts this year and also participated in the Christmas Parade. Antioch is truly proud of these hard-working students, who are a valuable facet of Antioch.

Perfect Attendance Award

MISS PATRICIA BLACKMAN

This year we are honoring a student who has not missed a day of school in twelve years.

We are proud to give such an unusual honor to this well-rounded person who enjoys school and comes prepared.

For these reasons, we wish to recognize Miss Patricia Blackman.

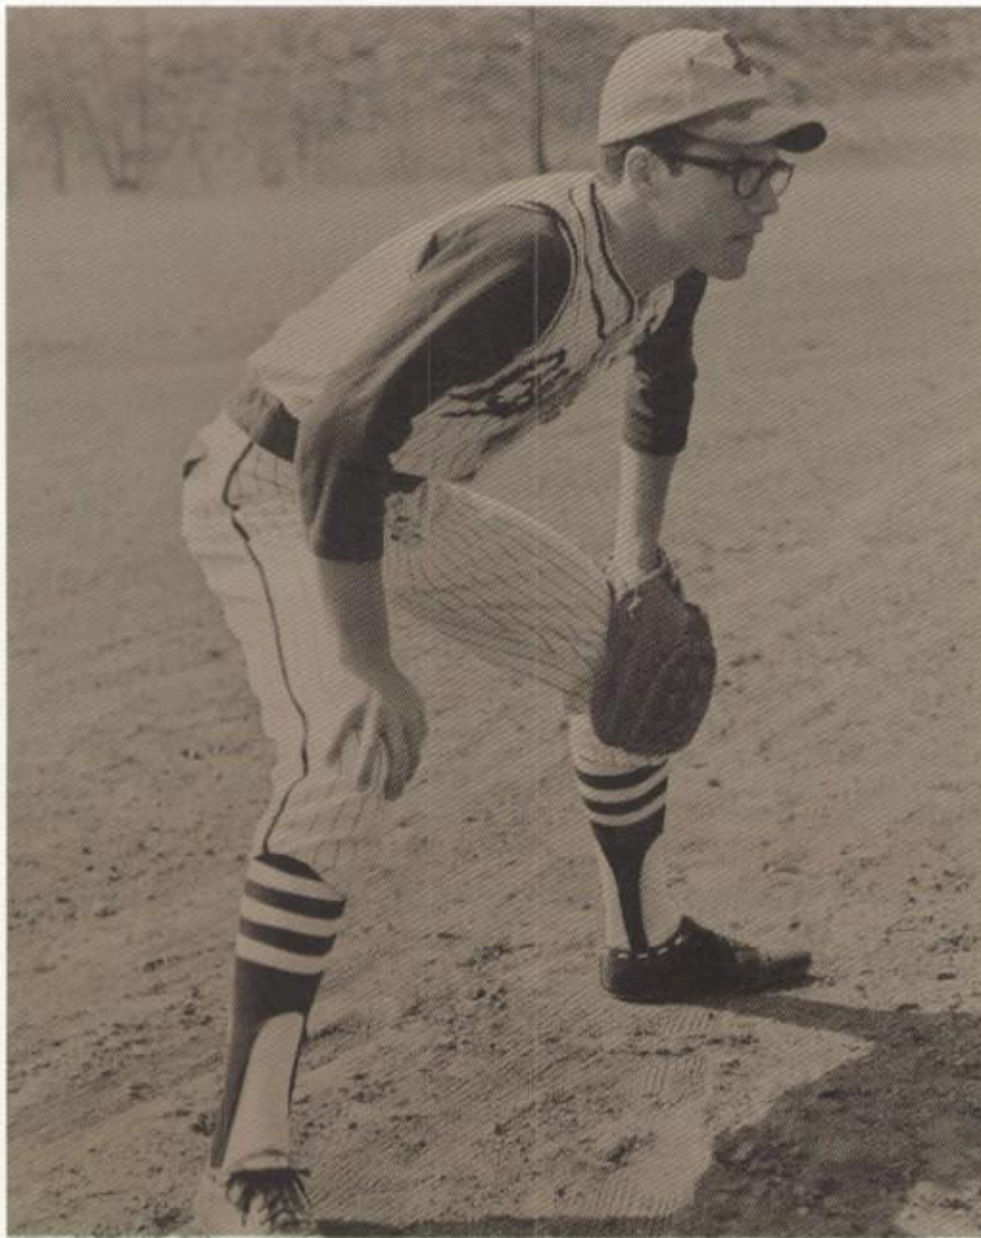

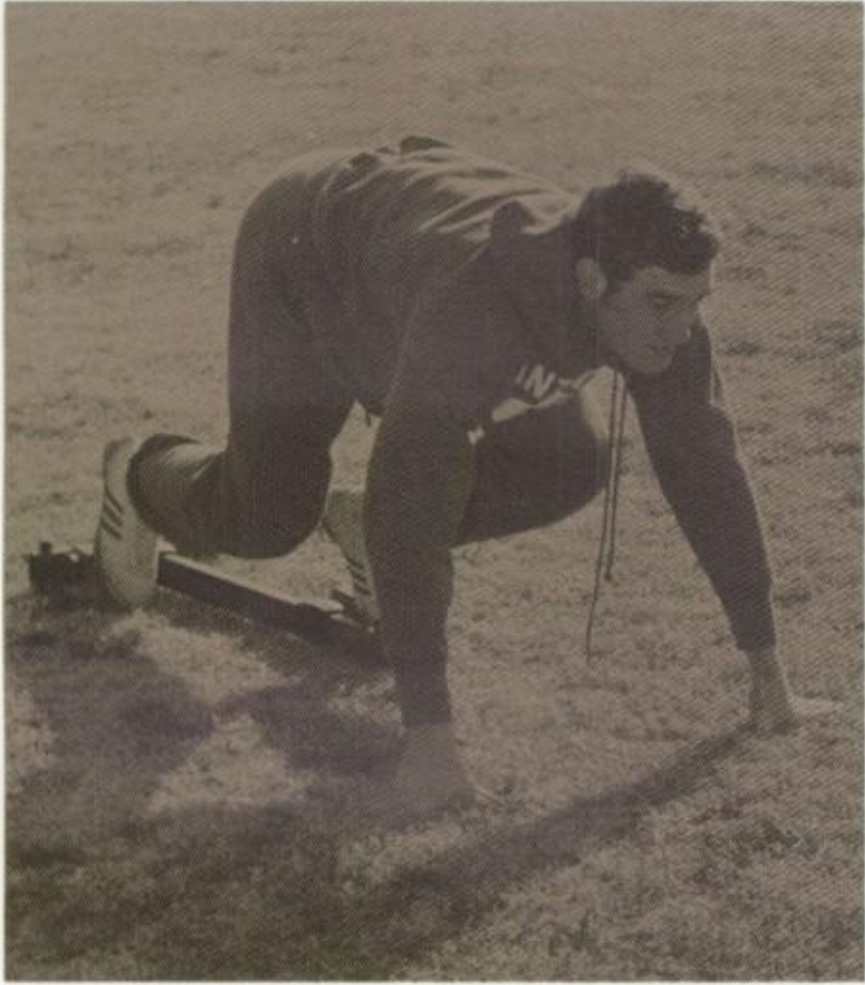

SPORTS . . .

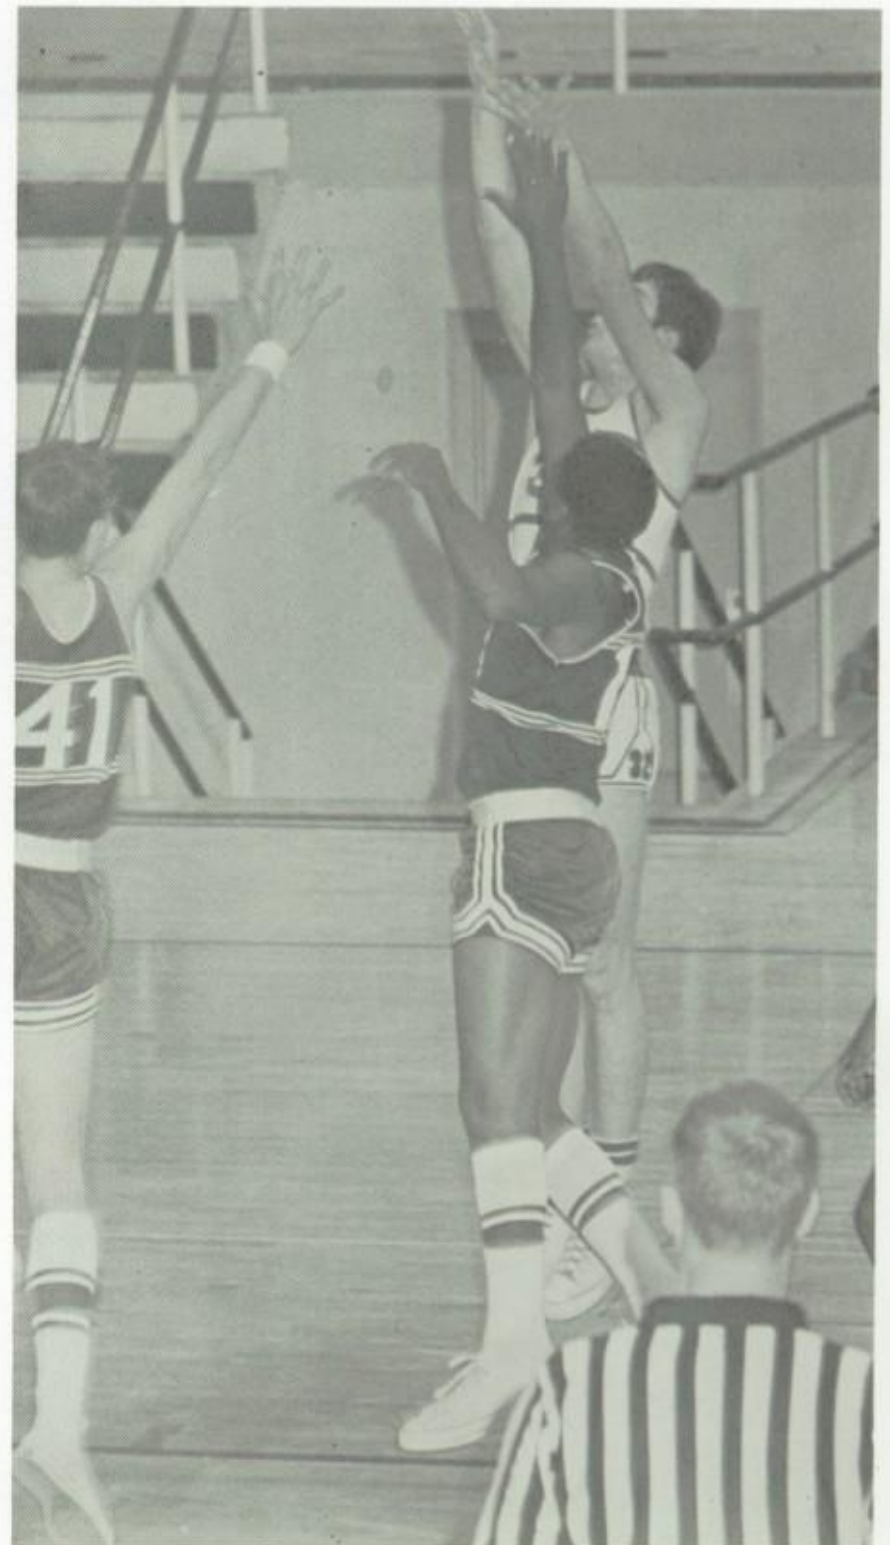

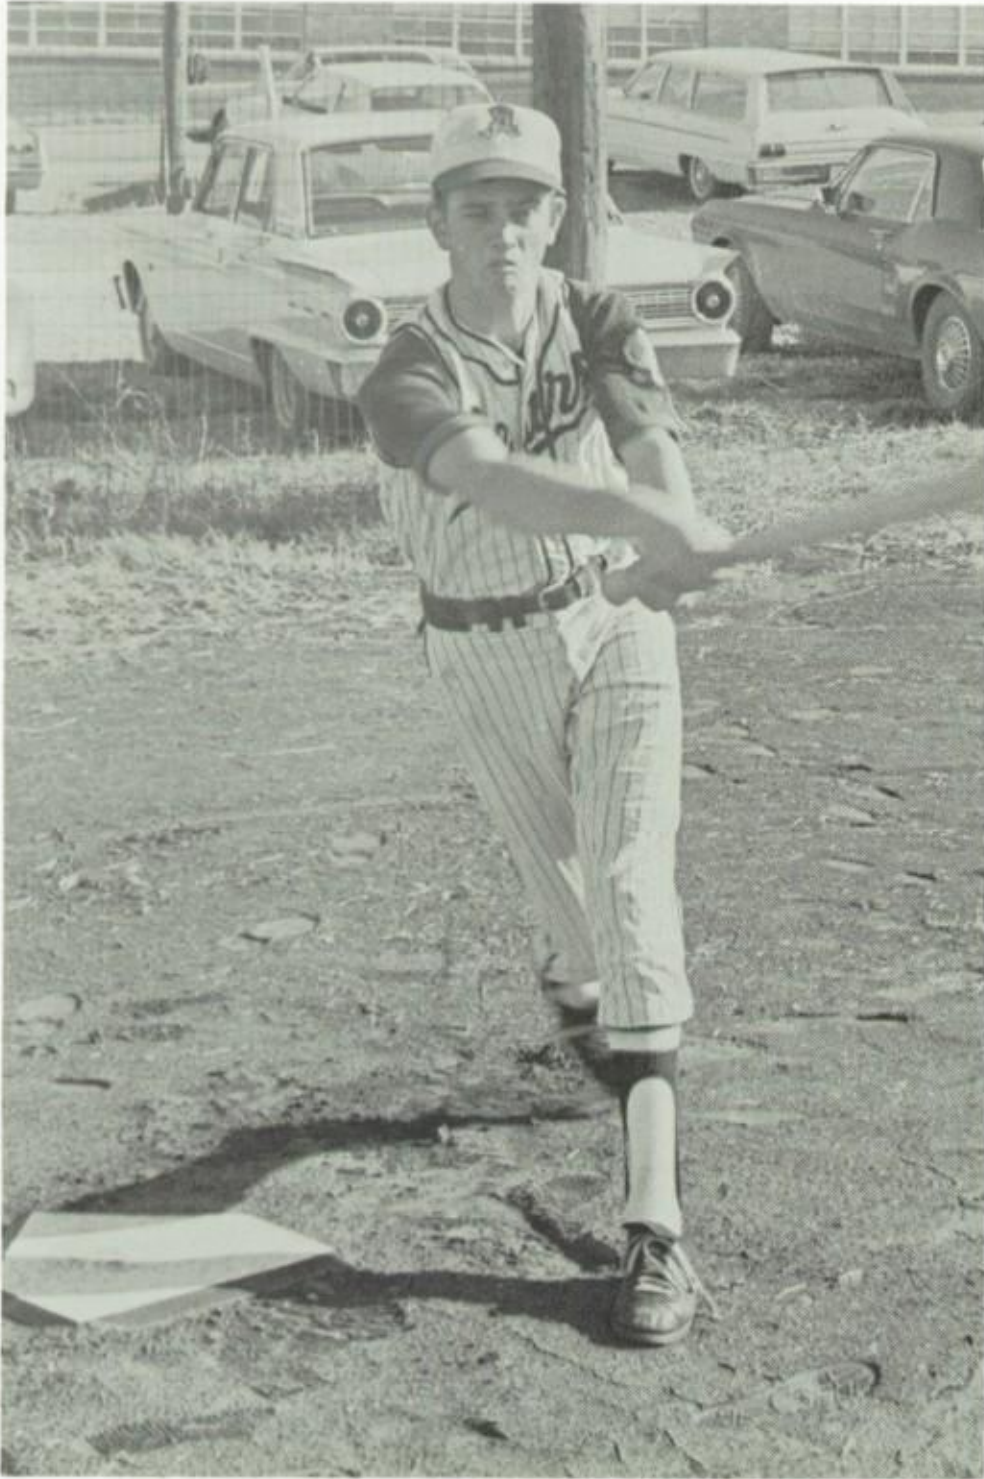

No school is complete without a well-rounded athletic program. Throughout Antioch's past, she has been well represented by athletic ability and participation in competitive sports.

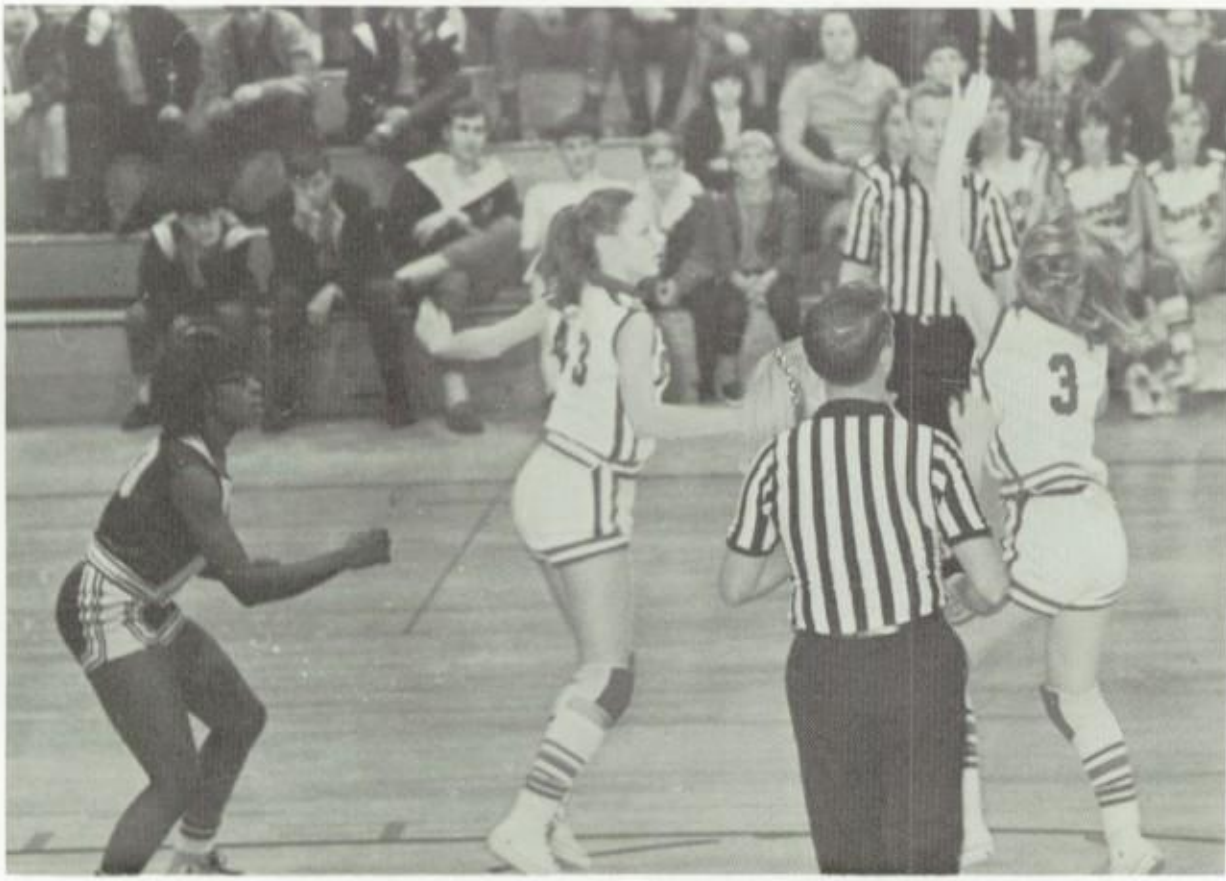

Our school's athletic program for the 1968-69 year was a great example of enthusiasm by students as well as by participants. We are proud of our students for supporting the athletic teams in victory and defeat.

Cheerleaders

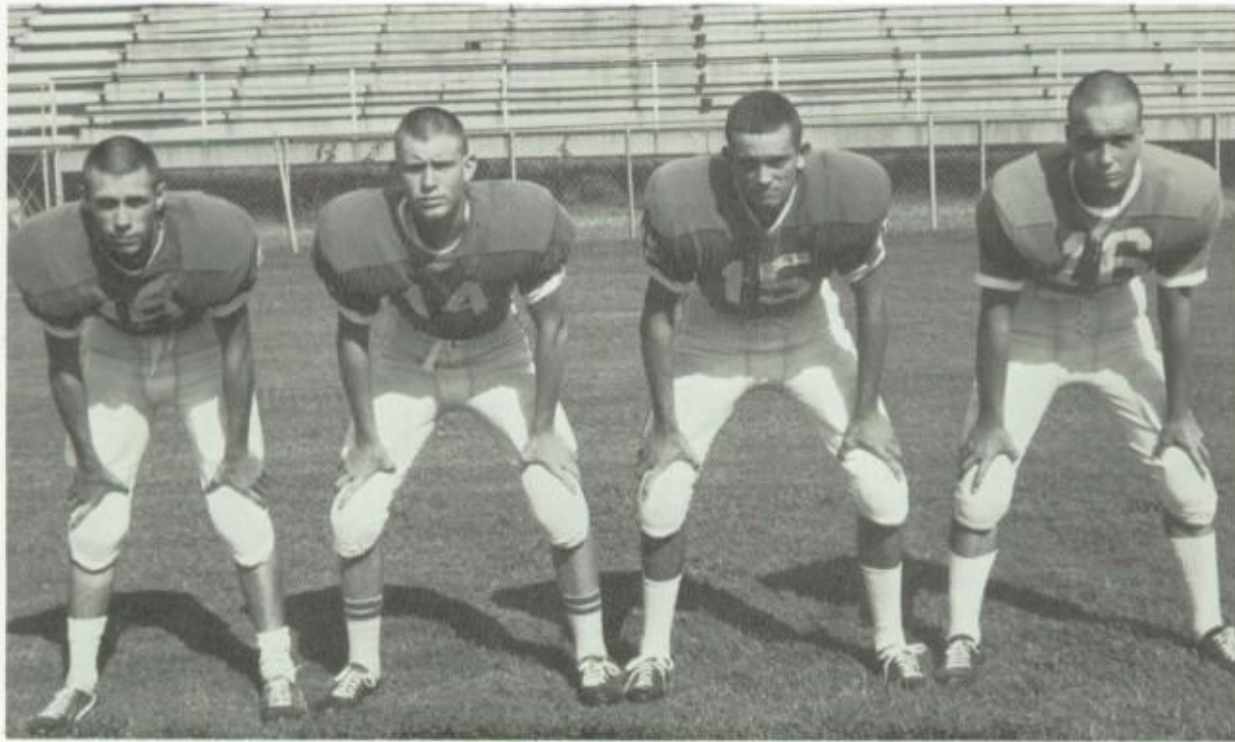

Through rain, cold, victory or defeat, the 1968-69 Cheerleaders always seem to possess a never ending supply of school spirit. Staying after school, splattering paint on their clothes, and trying to work the soreness out of their aching muscles, are only a few of the disastrous moments in the lot of our hardworking cheerleading squad.

The purpose of the Cheerleader is to foster and improve school spirit. These girls have been practicing since last spring and have spent many hours preparing for games and pep rallies.

Many thanks go to these girls who have improved our school spirit, and to their co-sponsors, Miss Bates and Miss Marshall, who have extended many a helping hand to the Cheerleaders.

With the 1968 football season came the joys of victory as well as the agony of defeat. The mighty Bears fought hard but could only manage a 4-6 record for the season against their high ranked opponents.

The season began against a tough Franklin team. The mighty Bears fought hard but a late fourth-period surge put the Rebels out of reach as the Bears dropped their opener, 7-27. The Bears' next foe was the MBA Big Red. The Red overpowered the Blue as they were defeated 0-33.

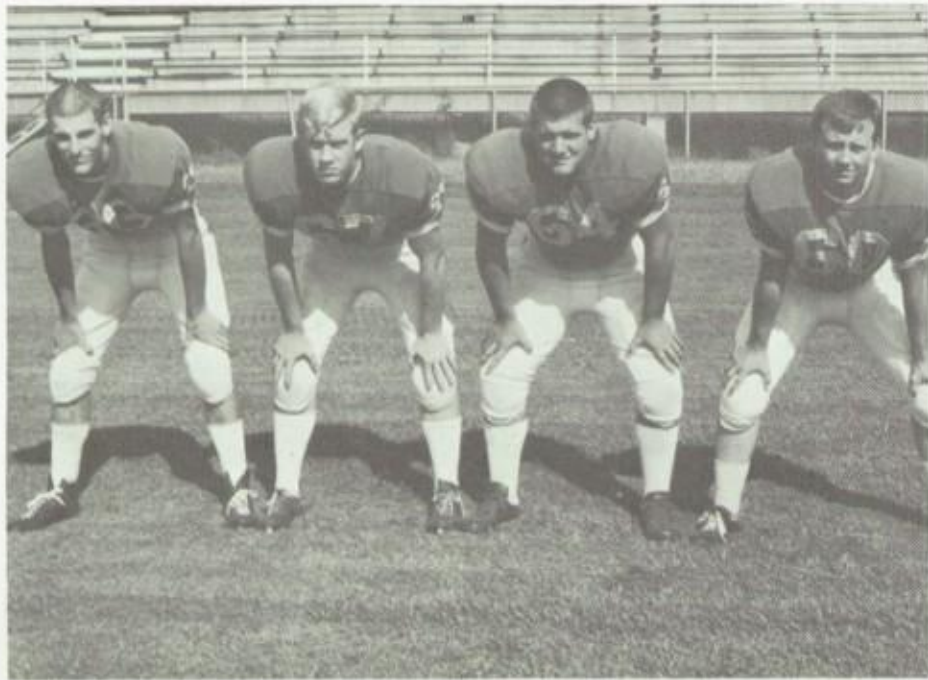

The Bears' third game resembled the first, as Overton won 6-26.

Halfbacks: David Ervin, Kenny Williams, Donald Crossland.

Fullbacks: Jim Brown, Larry Ward, Thomas Sayre, Tim Sherrill.

Guards: Ricky Johnson, Wesley Leonard, Tommy Brownlee, Mike Cornwell.

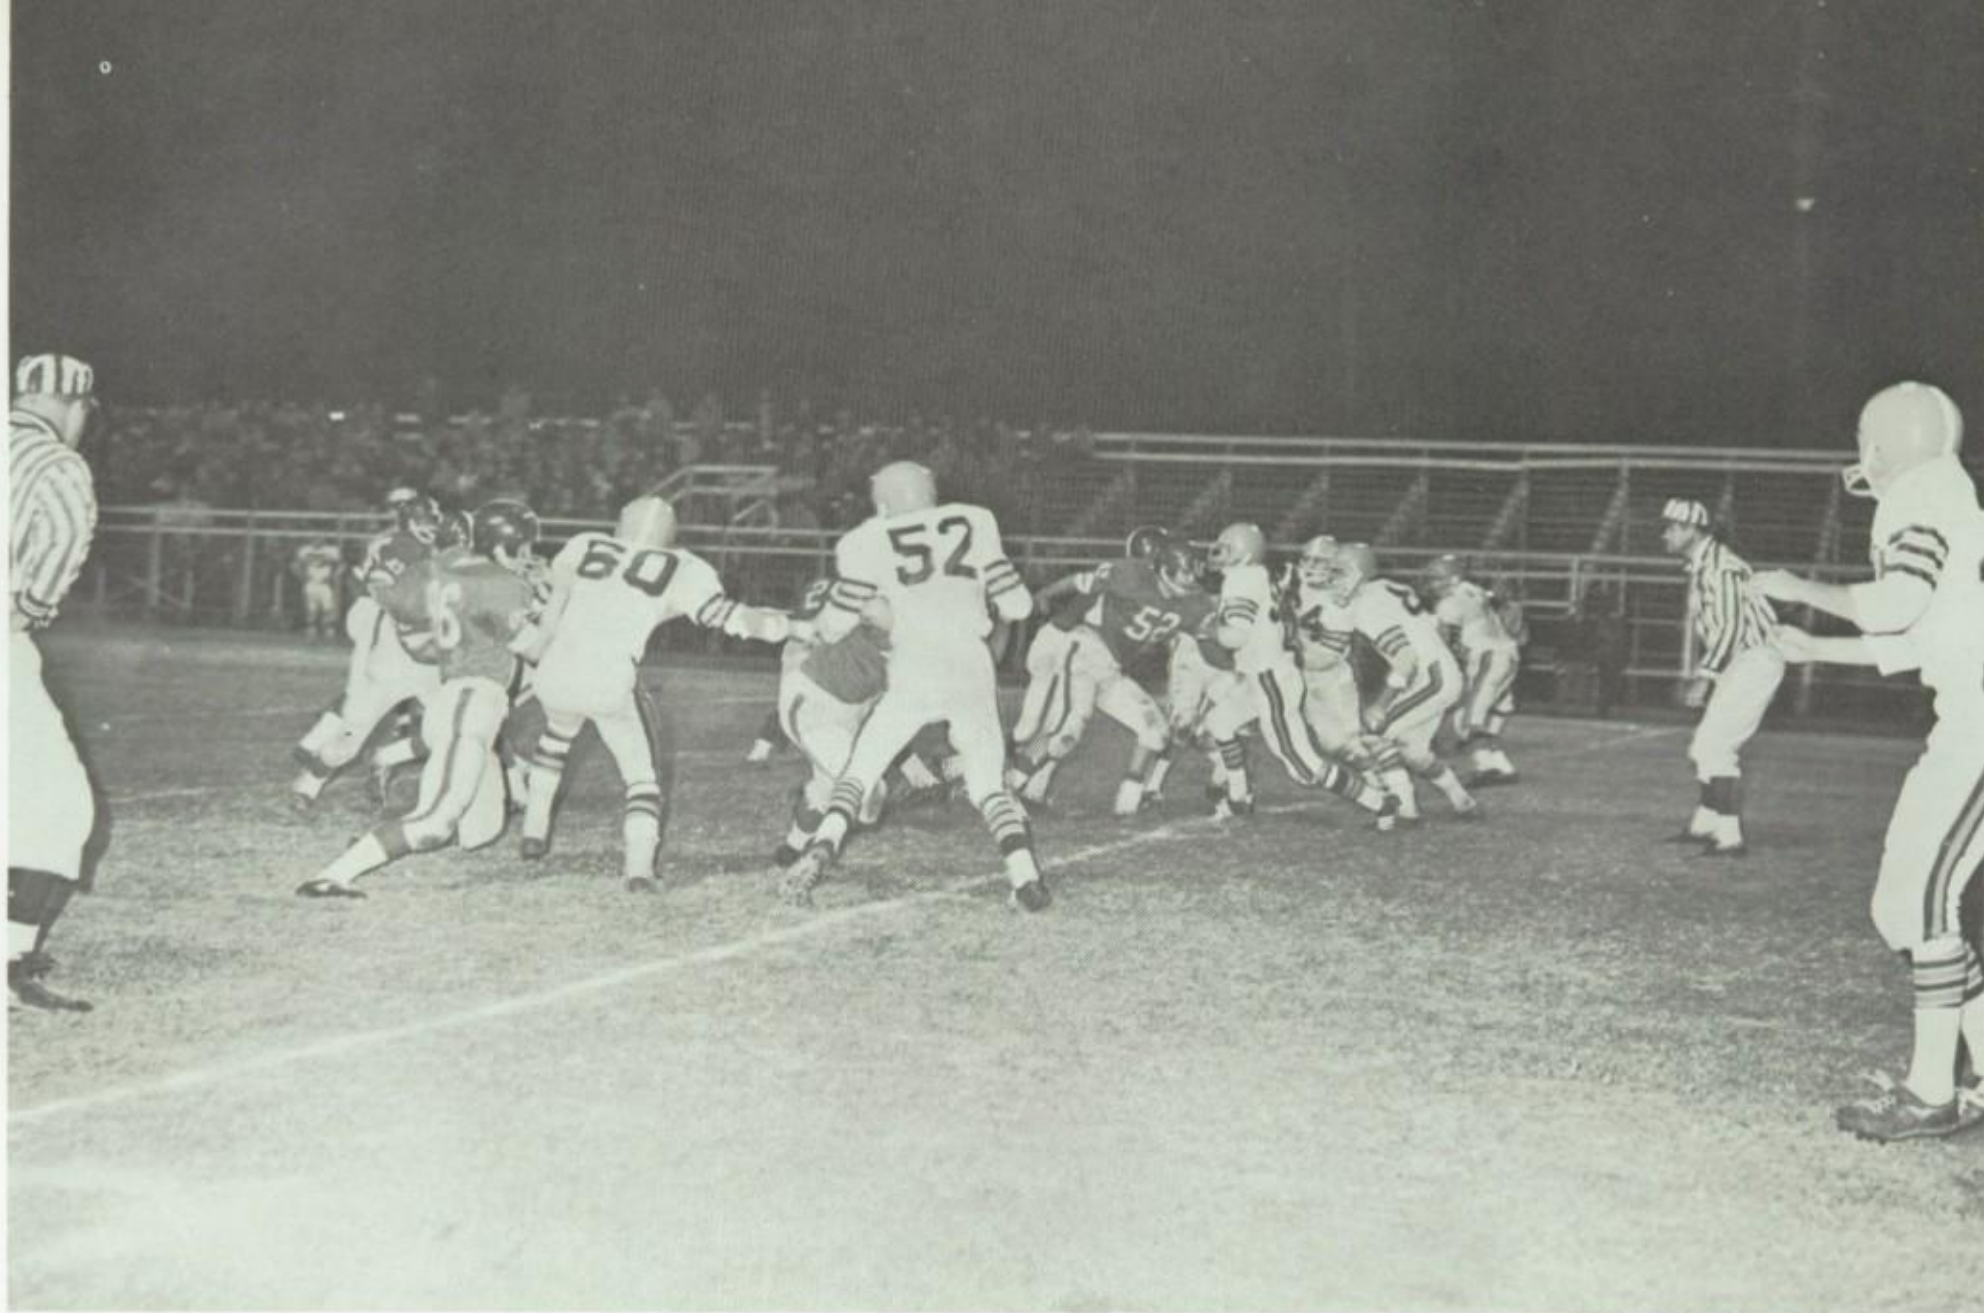

Ends: Stanley Webb, Bob Holt, Ricky Polk. STANDING: John Jackson, Buddy Childress, Gary McKinley.

Gosh Coach! That's real hip.

With three losses behind them, the Blue Bears were out for a victory. The team went to Hillsboro and behind the running of Larry Ward brought home an 18-13 Bear victory. The next game had the Bears barely defeating Cohn 7-6 and then rival Glencliff 16-12 on a last second defensive play. With Homecoming at hand, the Bears upset Stratford 20-13. This was the last of the Bear victories as they fell in their three final games to a mighty Ryan, 17-40; a Homecoming spirited Hillwood, 12-19; and finally to Pearl, 0-24 on a rainy season final.

Bear power on the move.

Boy's Basketball

The players of the '68-'69 Antioch Basketball season should be proud. They represented their school well. This year's defense was led by Carl Hastings while John Pratt and George Stockman were the big men on the boards. Much can also be said for the fine ball handling of George Davis and the scoring of Doug Willems. A fine effort was also supplied by the reserves. To Coach Smithson we say congratulations on a fine group of young men.

"I will knot!"

"Please I can't wait!"

Antioch's wrestling team of 1968-69 deserves a great deal of praise for the hard work and dedication put forth to make Antioch a better school athletically. The team was handicapped by not having enough boys to fill all the weight classes. Despite this handicap, the team showed its determination as it went out to represent our school in local competition and the regional meet.

The captains this year were Tommy Malone and Larry Kirmse. Tommy finished 4th in the Middle Tennessee Invitational and was voted Antioch's most valuable wrestler. Gary Jones, another of our school's representatives, finished 4th in the Midstate Regional Wrestling Tournament. Gary was the first wrestler ever to represent Antioch in the Midstate Regional Wrestling Tournament.

The student body says thank you for supporting our school and we hope our wrestling teams of the future will carry on.

People

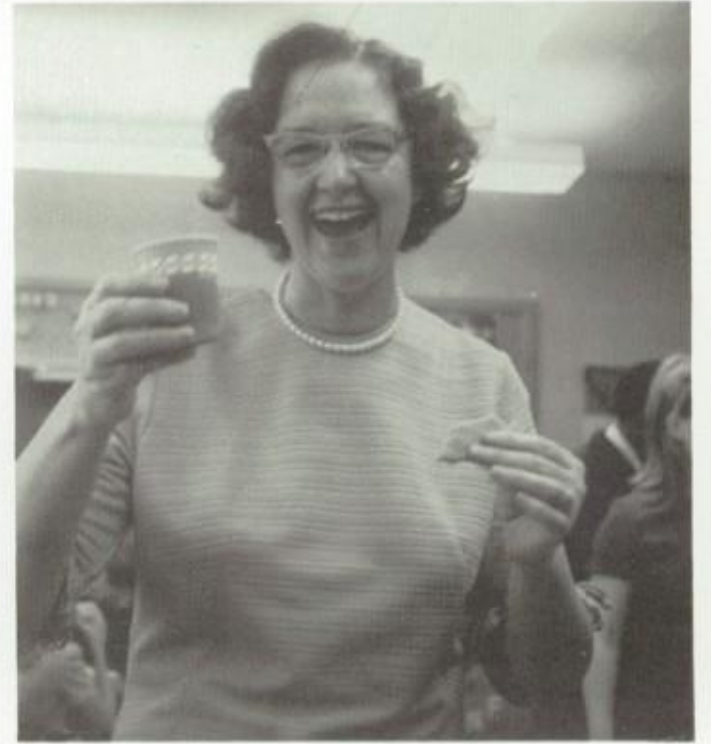

Within the course of one short day, one would meet and come in contact with a number of people—each individual with his own ideas, values, and personal goals—each a human being in his own right—each a creation of God in which his being was designed.

Nowhere else in the whole wide earth could one find exactly the same people who compose the makings of our school. There are athletes, scholars, debaters, artists, fun-loving, and serious-minded students, all enveloped into the same society. These are the leaders and followers of tomorrow. These are people. These are Antioch.

study!

We, the editors and staff of the 1968-69 REFLECTIONS, hope we have captured the true spirit of Antioch in the preceeding pages. Our sincere thanks are extended to each and every one who has helped us by their support and hard work; to our photographers, Mr. Charles Anderson, Chris Forbes, and Glen Nave; also to Mr. Leland Williams at Benson Printing Company for his kind guidance in helping us to present to you the 1969 REFLECTIONS; and most of all to Miss Joy Marshall and Miss Sandy Bates, our hard-working sponsors, for their many hours of help and encouragement.

After the long hours making new layouts, frantically taking last minute pictures, and rushing to complete deadlines on time, we hope it was all worthwhile and to your enjoyment. Although it was a lot of hard work, we must admit it is also a great feeling of accomplishment.
